Shooting at Elliott Kimball's.

Last Thursday evening what is known as the Chas. Crosby farm was the scene of a shooting party.

Elliott Kimball, who lives at the farm, had been in the village during the evening and returned at a late hour.

About an hour after his return when he was preparing for bed, two shots were fired through the window by some unknown party, barely escaping Mr. Kimball's head. A team was heard going at full speed in the direction of the village. Kimball immediately telephoned to W. A. Bicknell who is looking up the case.

Congregational Sabbath School.

Last Sunday, Jan. 3, the Sunday School of the Congregational Church, listened to reports for the past year and elected officers for the ensuing year. Reports showed the best condition in the history of the church. The gain has been steady and strong. No great noise has been made about the work, but faithful, efficient, consecrated service has been rendered. The reports showed the largest attendance ever reached, and through the able financial management of Fred Pike, the treasurer and secretary, the financial condition exceeded by considerable amount previous year and was never in a better condition. The school is supplied with an efficient class of teachers and every department is well organized.

The following is the list of officers elected:

Supt.—E. N. Sweet.

Ass't Supt.—Dea Irving Bean.

Sec'y.—L. Fred Pike.

Literary.—Ned Brown.

Supt. Primary Dept.—Bessie Chase.

Supt. Chas. Crosby Farm.—Mrs. Annie Barnes.

Supt. Home Dept.—C. N. Foss.

Exec. Com.—H. L. Horne, Mrs. McGroff, Mrs. McGroff.

Veranda Club.

The ladies of the Veranda club passed a very enjoyable evening, Dec. 31, at the home of Mrs. Annie Bennett, 19 Deering street. The club was visited by Mrs. Eva L. Fogg. Club voted to give a supper and promenade at G. A. R. hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 1, to the benefit of the Veranda club. Refreshments, consisting of assorted confectionery, cake and coffee, were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grace Bennett.

The Veranda club will give their annual ball at G. A. R. hall, Norway, on Thursday evening, Feb. 1. Complete arrangements for the ball will be announced later.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday, Jan. 12, at 2.30 p. m., with Mrs. Eugene Andrews, Savings bank building. It will be a Mothers' meeting. All are cordially invited.

Carl Boynton entertained the clerks of Smiley's dry goods store at his home, Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and games and what were enjoyed throughout the evening.

Erland Tyler, who with H. J. Lea went West last May, has been heard from by several of their friends. The boys report themselves in good positions. Mr. Tyler is in the employ of the Nickel Plate Ry. and Mr. Lea is foreman in the factory of the Metzger Read and Linsend Oil Co.

The I. O. G. T. lodge of this place are to entertain the district lodge in about three weeks. It is to be a very special and a dinner will be given at K. G. R. hall on that day in honor of the event. All members are requested to be at the hall on Monday next and learn the particulars.

One of our doctors recently stopped to tea at a certain place up in town and of the course of the meal reference was made to the bread and the doctor turned to the young man and remarked, "Your mother is a very fine cook. This bread is the best I ever ate." "Yes," replied the young man, "but the bread came from the Norway bakery."

The Clerks' committee on decorations have engaged the well known decorator, Elmer E. Brown of Portland to decorate Norway Opera House for the coming Clerks' ball, and from Mr. Brown's reputation as a decorator, we may expect something out of the usual order. The press notes speak of his work as being "The finest ever seen in this part of the country." The refreshment committee have engaged a landlord, Elsworth E. Young of the Elm House to serve a turkey supper at intermission.

Three ladies from Paris drove to Norway, Thursday, to attend the Grange meeting and put their horse in one of the stables. In a short time after the meeting commenced it was announced that the horse belonging to the three ladies from Bolster's Mills had got loose and had gone off, no knowing where. Of course the ladies, coming from Paris, merely wondered if the horse was theirs, but paid no further attention until they ate dinner, then went to the stable to see if the horse had had his. Then they found that their horse was the missing one, but after a considerable trouble had been seen on Maple street. This horse, it seems, is a good granger.

Successful Meetings.

An Old-Time Revival in Progress at the Methodist Church in Norway.

The series of evangelistic meetings which have been held in the Methodist church of Norway the past two weeks, and will continue till further notice, have been of a profound, inspiring character. The church members have been quickened (this is saying considerable, as of late years the members of this church have been very much alive) and a goodly number have signified a purpose to lead a Christian life.

The pastor, Rev. C. A. Brooks, is well pleased with the good results already obtained from this evangelistic campaign and is looking for even greater manifestations of God's presence in our midst. He is being assisted by Edwin A. Corbett of Providence, R. I., who believes in looking on the bright side of life, yet nevertheless denounces sin and its consequences with unflinching meanness.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all the people to unite in these special services and thus help and be helped in the "King's business."

The enthusiastic singing by a large chorus choir is a feature of these meetings.

Deacon Osgood Perry.

Deacon Osgood Perry passed away quite suddenly Monday morning. He will be missed by all his neighbors and friends for surely a good man has gone from us.

He had been in his usual health this winter and was able to ride to the village and attend church. Mr. Perry had been deacon of the Congregational church many years, and it was seldom a Sunday that did not find him in his pew.

He was born in Norway, Sept. 6, 1825, the son of John and Amelia (Bartlett) Perry on the old homestead where he always lived. He married Anna M. Frost, the daughter of a farmer living near Norway Lake, and they were always farmers and enjoyed life in their pretty and slightly farm-house.

For many years ago, Mrs. Perry died. Their son, Horace Perry, lived in the same house with Mr. and Mrs. Perry, and the other son, William O. Perry, lived on his farm close by. Since Mrs. Perry's death the deacon has lived with his daughter's family. Before the war mentioned he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Amy J. Millett, the wife of Solomon Millett of Norway. One son, Leland J. Perry, died at the age of 12 years.

In politics Mr. Perry was a Republican. The funeral was held at his late home, Wednesday at 1 o'clock. Rev. B. S. Rideout, his pastor, spoke words of his goodness and kindness and unselfishness that it could not but be a consolation to his family and friends in their loss. The interment was beside his wife in the Center cemetery.

Urban Tyler visited in Waterford and stayed last week.

He has been suffering from an ulcerated throat.

Everett McKay, who has been working in Lewiston, has returned home.

Bessie Chase has been confined to the sick room the past week with a severe cold.

Mrs. Eastman of Conway, N. H., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Nash.

Ella Black, who has been working in Auburn for the past year, has returned home.

The S. B. & Z. S. Prince store will be closed for stock taking, Tuesday, Jan. 12th.

William Noble has finished work for the Paris Mfg Co. and is at work in the woods.

Lorna Littlehale spent a few days with Mrs. A. E. K. Grover; also called on other friends.

Mrs. Charles Marston and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Hatch of Albany, were in town recently.

Mrs. H. E. Cushman of Bryant Pond visited at Mr. Arthur Cummings' on Fore street, this week.

Herbert Holt of North Norway has a black sheep, fat and hearty, which is 17 years old this coming spring.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate agency has sold the Walker stand on Bridge street, Norway, to Herbert P. Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Flint of North Norway were in town Monday. Mrs. Flint has been quite ill but is now much better.

There was no assembly at G. A. R. hall last Monday on account of a meeting of the lodge but there is to be one on Monday next.

Plans are being made for the production of a musical play at the Grange, to be under the direction of Walter S. Stearns and Frank Moore.

The item in last week's paper should have read Mrs. John Lasselle received a gold watch and chain from her husband as a Christmas gift.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Guphill of Albany were in town Saturday morning; also H. N. Bean of Auburn and E. C. Bean of Hebron called there.

Mrs. M. H. Merriam's sister, Mrs. Emogene Cushman of Livermore Falls, and niece, Mrs. Arthur Allen and Helen Andrews of Auburn, visited her on New Year's day.

The Congregational "Christmas tree" was held at H. L. Libby's on Deering street, Friday evening, January 1st. At six o'clock a fine chicken pie supper was served to the party. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Libby, the Misses Anne and Elizabeth Libby, Miss Shattuck and Miss Libby. Annie Bagley presented each guest with a Swastika stick pin as a souvenir of the occasion. After supper the gifts from the tree were distributed and each received a large variety of very pretty and useful articles. Gifts were given some of the guests as jokes and no little amount of fun was enjoyed throughout the evening.

Instead of the usual week of prayer at the Congregational church, Rev. B. S. Rideout, pastor of the church, has made a change in the program. It was proposed by the pastor that the church devote the time to making as many calls as possible through the week, devoting themselves especially to the outlying and other who were debarrd from much exercise out of doors; not neglecting those others on whom they might be able to call.

L. M. Longley returned from Boston last night.

Molly Downing of Oxford, is visiting friends in town.

Gertrude Coolidge spent New Year's in Groveton, N. H.

Central Park was opened Monday evening for roller skating.

Alby Grover and wife spent Sunday with relatives in Otisfield.

V. W. Hills attended the meeting of opticians in Portland this week.

Lilly York visited her sister, Mrs. Warren Jordan, in Yarmouth the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf visited their sister, Mrs. Fannie Frost, recently.

A WAY THEY HAVE.

What This Norway Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this reporter at a dinner of Norway are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, a vicus to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the greatest remedy in Norway must be convinced. Read the following:

Louis Lovejoy, living near Seal St., Norway, Me., says: "I am giving my rare to be used as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills because I have received great relief through their use. I am getting well along in years and have suffered a great deal during the past months with a dull pain through my back. For or to the time I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from Store's drug store, I was scarcely able to get around. My kidneys were very irregular in action and the secretions caused me great annoyance. I had heard so much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box and since using them am better in every way. I am able to work in my garden, walk without a cane, and there is a general improvement in my condition. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

"Weighed in the Balance."

Written for the Advertiser.

"Weighed in the balance"—found wanting! Soul crushed, life weary, heart-sore! With faith, the pale spectre haunting Thine intellect, shamed and defeated, Counted out ere the race was completed, For lacking endurance and heart.

Turn away from your whole wretched failure, Cast aside the whole tawdry regalia, The empty joys, the vain ambitions, Gird up your loins—there are others,— Look the world in the face, we are brothers! And all are found wanting at times.

CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

The Year Is Closed.

The year is closed, the record made, The last deed done, the last word said, Of all its joys, its griefs, its gains; And now with purpose full and clear, Turn to meet another year.

What a time! Man has forever,— Browning.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Ophelia M. Shaw.

Ophelia M. Shaw passed away on December 24, after a sickness of many years. She was the eldest daughter of the late James M. Shaw and was 68 years old.

She resided in this village with her sister, Mrs. Loretta Flint, widow of David Flint, late of South Waterford.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, at the late residence, attended by Guy Van Alden. The interment was at Elm Vale Cemetery.

The waterflood from Thomas pond is insufficient for running the saw mill and other machines of Hapgood and Willard several great cars of lumber are being gaily extruded low-water mark.

Guo Van Aldrich of University of Pennsylvania, Department of Zoology, preached last Sunday at Center Congregational church and in the afternoon at North Village. He was gladly greeted by his friends.

It was a "Merry Christmas" indeed at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hamlin. Youth, beauty and love and good will all contributed to the success of the occasion. Besides the parents, all the members of the family

Flora, and her son, W. Abbott, Jennie, Carrie, and Albert, W. Abbott, Jennie, guests; Alonzo Collamore, Arthur S. Eason, Charles Wilson, George Hill of North Brimbor, Ida Abbott, Bessie Hamlin and Annie L. Dudley.

GREENWOOD.

John Mayhew suffered a rather painful injury a few days ago. While driving a spike nail the hammer flew from his hand and took the nail entirely from the little finger. The same day, Walter Ring, Willis' Mill, dropped one on his thumb, inflicting a painful wound.

The season of New Year resolutions is now upon us. If you want to make a real sensible start in some good work for the New Year, begin by writing your congressman and senator your opinion of necessary legislation. Eighty per cent of the American people favor a reduction of the tariff and a further extension of civil service. If you want them why don't you have them? If you sit supinely by and do nothing about pending legislation don't wonder because you are badly governed and have unjust laws. If you want a thing, ask for it. If you don't ask, ask again, and then some more, working over time in your interest. Have you nothing to say for your self? Sit up and take notice. Don't be behind and push. Don't make the mistake of trying good, action is better. Get busy and as taking a wholesome, lively interest in what is doing in Augusta and Washington. Make your influence felt. Much good will result if people, as a whole, would form new year resolutions of this nature.

EAST STONEHAM.

Mrs. Lora Allen spent Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. Bickford.

Mrs. Alfred Spears drove down to her home for a short visit Sunday.

Wallace Elliott, wife and baby, from North Waterford, called on friends here, Sunday.

Geo. Rice and wife came over here to church Sunday. Looks as though they liked the preacher.

Willie McKee is cutting pine for Maurice Block and Geo. Evans is hauling to Littlefield's mill.

Aunt Prue Smith brought rolls from Bridgton one Sunday, and before the next came around she had spun most of the rolls and knitted a pair of men's mittens in that for 84?

Mrs. Sarah Brown spent Christmas with her daughter and family, Mrs. Jennie McAllister who entertained her brothers and wives, the Christmas tree heavily laden with useful and fancy articles.

A few of the young people from this way go over to North Lovell to the dancing school. The Grange over there had an Antiquarian supper after which they danced the old year out and the new year in.

We had church both afternoon and evening, Sunday the 27th. The preacher, Mr. Jenkins, seemed to arouse quite an interest in religious matters. The Sunday school is in a flourishing condition. The teachers had a Christmas tree for the little ones which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. John Barker is improving, she has been quite sick.

Mrs. Fernando McAllister has been sick with a very bad cold.

John C. Files expects to go to the hospital soon. He has been unable to work for a number of months.

J. Bartlett is on the sick list and unable to attend to his business. His son, F. H. Bartlett, went to Augusta, Monday.

Frank McAllister has harvested his ice, packed. The ice is only 12 inches thick, in places it is very thin and the logging teams are waiting for cold weather to make the pond strong enough to haul their heavy loads.

New Year Reflections.

As the old year draws to a close and the new year begins the aged people naturally look back over the past scenes and experiences in sober silence, while the young look forward with glad expectations.

How many there are who were with us a year ago who have passed beyond the veil. Little did we think it then—it looked as if some of them might outlive us many years.

The years are made up of joys surprises and sudden grief. Many people make themselves miserable mourning over what "might have been." There is no such thing as "might have been," it is only a myth, it never can be, it is nothing but emptiness. Better spend the time striving for the things that can be. Everything comes along in its time. That which belongs to this year couldn't have been last year.

Man cuts but a small figure in the over-ruling of affairs generally. Although our space is limited, let us occupy that space to its fullest extent, and when we speak that "Happy New Year" let it not be the usual thoughtless speech but think of the ways in which we might make it happy.

W. W. MAXIM.

EAST OTISFIELD.

The Young Lady and Gent Got Left.

In a small town in Cumberland County are many pretty and attractive farm homes and in these homes we often find the steady going faithful boys that any one can at all times depend on. One of these great care and responsibilities because of his faithfulness his duty and judgment were unsurpassed.

I have in mind one of this type who served faithfully on the farm until manhood, then "set sail" for the city. He at once entered into city life with the same ambition he had manifested on the farm. After a time he decided to take a lady friend home to meet his parents and the Christmas holidays. Imagine the surprise of the whole town when the news flew over the telegraph wires, "George is coming home with a lady."

During their visit at home one beautiful morning the indulgent father said, "George, the house needs exercise, I will harness, and you take your friend and my son's wife out for a drive." George of course wished to be entertaining so he takes them to the Grange Hall, as the old horse had served George so faithfully when on the farm, he trusted him again and left him unhitched at the door.

They passed in and looked the hall over and George was busy telling how his father had done all the painting and papering and the many improvements found there, also that his father had been a most loyal master in the Grange.

This did not particularly interest the dear old pony so he turned about and went home, spilling robes, cushions, ladies' gloves, furs, and all such things along as he went, he soon reached home. Meaning the hall had been well looked over and the ladies were ready for another ride when, lo, the team had vanished. George, knowing the way of a neighbor was passing whom George hailed with "Hello sir, let me have your horse to go get my horse," so he left the ladies to their own entertainment, jumped on the team and drove at a high rate of speed to overtake his horse, but his horse was "safe at home."

George took a fresh horse, one who did not need much exercise, and went back after his ladies, and soon had them safe in his father's house.

Young men, don't be in a hurry to leave the farm. City life is too exciting. The ties of friendship formed in the city are so strong a fellow may sometimes become forgetful.

Hartly Greenleaf and Jennie Linnell have returned to their school at Norway after two weeks vacation.

Ernest L. Greenleaf, who is in the employ of the Paris Mfg. Co., was at home a few days at Christmas.

Mr. Alvin Linnell, wife and baby Evelyn, George Linnell and friend Miss Laggett, of Lynn, and Bernice Linnell, who is attending Blue Business College at Lewiston, spent a few days at Christmas time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Linnell.

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

Maurice Brown came home from Tufts College, Boston, Dec. 24th, to spend Christmas.

Grace Brown, Ida Brown, Elsie, Lena and Clifford Buck, who spent their vacation at home, have returned to the Norway High school. Ruth Boone and Mrs. A. A. Rolfe remained in the village during the vacation.

They had a very pretty family Christmas tree at the residence of W. S. Buck, Christmas morning. H. I. and Mrs. E. J. Holt were the only invited guests there. Each one of the family was remembered with pretty and useful gifts.

Thousands Have Kidney

Trouble and Never Suspect it. Prevalence of kidney disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common ailment that prevails, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Williams' Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water, and scalding pain in passing it, or water effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Williams' Swamp-Root, at Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When home of Swamp-Root, writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Williams' Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

OLD PEOPLE!

Need Vinol because it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. It fortifies the system against colds, and thus prevents pneumonia.

This is because Vinol contains Iron and all of the medicinal body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil, taken from fresh cods' livers—but no oil. Vinol is not a patent medicine. Everything it contains is named on bottle.

POOR BLOOD

Elderly people feel the cold keenly, because their blood is thin, sluggish and watery. Vinol is the ideal blood tonic and strength maker. It creates a hearty appetite, promotes digestion, purifies and enriches the blood and invigorates the entire body.

COUGHS AND COLDS

Elderly people are very susceptible to coughs and colds, which so often develop pneumonia. Don't lose time experimenting with other remedies when we guarantee Vinol to cure. Vinol has carried many an old person through a hard winter without a cold or cough.

76 YEARS OLD

The grand-niece of Alexander Hamilton says:—"I am 76 years old, have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, and feel active and well. Thanks to Vinol, which is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used. Vinol is a God send to old people."

80 YEARS OLD

"I was so feeble I had to be wheeled about in an invalid's chair, and took cold at the slightest cause. Vinol built up my strength so I could walk a quarter of a mile. I am delighted."—MRS. M. BLOOM, Lewistown, Pa.

How Birds Preserve the Trees.

Now and again some enterprising newspaper man expatiating on the work of the Audubon societies dishes up a remarkable story of the National Association or makes extraordinary claims in respect to the usefulness of birds. Then some "doubting Thomas" very properly discounts the tale and even expresses doubt as to whether birds are, after all, so necessary to man's welfare as the protectionists would have us believe.

But the practical beneficial results of the work of the birds have now been so long observed and so conclusively proven that there is no longer any room for doubt regarding their usefulness. Destruction of trees and crops always follows extreme depredation of the numbers of the smaller native birds. Moreover, conservation of birds produces the opposite effect.

In 1894-5 I made experiments to attract birds into an old orchard in Medford, Mass. For this purpose I set out the smaller native birds. Moreover, conservation of birds produces the opposite effect.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.
Apple Growers to Meet at Norway.
All interested in the growing of apples in Oxford county or any other part of this State should meet at Patrons' hall, Norway, Jan. 9th, to consider action to be taken in regard to legislation that is to be considered by the legislature regarding the establishment of a standard of No. 1's and No. 2's, the dimensions of a standard barrel and box, also the purchase by the State of a farm for experiment and demonstration in horticulture.
The National government has appropriated a large amount for the carrying out of this latter proposition if the State will take the necessary steps.
Be there at 9 a. m., if you can, if not, be there as soon after as possible. This is an important matter and should not be overlooked.

K. G. E. Ball.
Norway Opera House was the scene of one of the jolliest dancing parties of the season on Thursday evening when the old year was gaily ushered out and the new year given a royal welcome by the society and who held a ball that will go down in the social history of the winter as one of the most notable events of the season.
There were 85 couples, led by Urshal Gammon and lady, and his efficient aids. The ladies were given in their most beautiful silks and laces, and charming music was enjoyed throughout the affair. Ice and cake were served at intermission.

Tufts College Concert and Dance.
The Tufts College Glee and Mandolin Clubs made their annual tour through Maine last week. They gave four concerts, one each in Bangor, Pittsford, Norway and Portland. The concert at Norway was Saturday evening, given under the auspices of the Norway high school seniors. The concerts by these clubs are much liked by Norway people and the music this year and the readings were excellent. The young people particularly enjoy the dance after the concert as it gives them a chance to become acquainted with the members of the clubs.

Grace Bicknell has recently been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bicknell.
F. W. Sanborn attended the annual meeting of the Bethel Water Co., Monday.

Earl Thibodeau has been spending the holiday vacation from Tufts college at his home here.

Lorna Littlehale was in Norway the past week. She is having a week's vacation from her school at Locke's Mills.

Nathan Shapiro, who has been working in Auburn for the past few months, has returned to work again for B. E. Spinney & Co.

Mrs. Charles E. Johnston of Portsmouth, N. H., has visited her brother, Dr. F. E. Drake, and her Norway friends this week.

Irene Hazen, teacher in the Manomet grammar school, Plymouth, Mass., has returned to Plymouth after a week's vacation at her father's, J. B. Hazen's.

Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, E. A. Corbett, the evangelist who is holding meetings at the Methodist church, gave a talk in the Norway Opera House to a fair sized audience of men only. There was special music by a quartet, C. E. Ranger, A. P. Brooks, Len Sessions and Geo. K. Robinson. Mr. Corbett spoke to some extent on the prevailing sins of the day and urged that all should start the new year with new resolutions and live clean pure lives.

The chairman and veteran selectman, D. S. Sanborn, found a few weeks ago that Mrs. Fred Spencer, who had fallen into the distress of poverty, had a residence in the town of Bradley. He had to journey to that town for evidence, and it took some time and trouble to settle the fact that the inhabitants of Bradley Spencer and not Norway. The selectmen got her to that town, and they felt that they had got her comfortably and time to congratulate themselves on a good job well done, when a second Mrs. Fred Spencer called on them and asked the town of Norway to assist and care for her. They have looked after her wants as "fathers of the town." They trust if there are any more living Mrs. Fred Spencer's that Mr. Fred Spencer may be able to support them.

A Prayer for Women.
Keep us from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.
Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.
May we put away all pretence and meet each other face to face—without self-pity and without prejudice.
May we be never hasty in judgment and always generous in judgment.
Let us take time for all things; make us to grow calm, serene, gentle.
Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.
Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are as one.
And may we strive to touch and to know the great common woman's heart of us all, and let us not forget to be kind!

George Burnham, Jr.

George Burnham, Jr., for many years head of the Burnham-Morrill Co., of packers, and perhaps the oldest man in point of service engaged in the packing business in this country, died at his home at Oumberland Forester at 1.30 Thursday morning. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia which followed a shock of paralysis which Mr. Burnham sustained about a week ago. Mr. Burnham's death will be a great loss to South Paris as he not only was of the firm, Burnham & Morrill, owners and operators of the corn factory but was interested in the Trust Company, the toy factory, the water question and other business enterprises. Mr. Burnham was a corn factory in Denmark. He was one of the wealthy men of Maine and did much good with his money. George Burnham, Jr., was the oldest son of George and Margaret (Burr) Burnham, and was born in Portland, Jan. 31, 1831. His boyhood was spent at home, where he attended the city schools until the age of 14, when he went to work for George F. Lewis, who was the pioneer in Portland in packing hermetical sealed goods. Here he remained six years, and became well acquainted with the business and made for himself a profitable operation.

In 1851 he engaged for one year with Samuel Rumery and in March, 1852, formed a co-partnership with that gentleman (Rumery & Burnham) and continued in the packing business until January, 1857, when the partnership was dissolved, and he associated with him in the same business Mr. Morrill (Burnham & Morrill). In 1852 the Burnham & Morrill Co. was formed into a corporation.

Mr. Burnham had been continuously in this business since 1845, which, although commencing in a small way, at present reaches to all parts of the habitable globe and is no unimportant interest in the business and trade of Portland.

He first began business on Burnham's wharf, and in 1852 erected the commodious brick building on Franklin street, where he had since been in business. Mr. Burnham was a member of the Republican party, but strictly devoted to his business, he had never sought any public notice. He married in 1854, Annie W. Simonton. She died in 1893. In June, 1868, he married Abbie E., a sister of his first wife.

He was a member of the Cumberland club. Mr. Burnham was never a man who was much given to publicity but he was kind and generous and greatly loved by those who knew him best. He is survived by his wife and a brother, Perez B. Burnham.

The funeral was at the Cumberland Forester home.

Oxford Co. Representative Elect.

Fred S. Smith, Andover.
Fred S. Smith of Andover, represents the class including Newry, Andover, Bethel, Upton, Hanover, Grafton, Madison, Gilsum, Eron, Roxbury and the Magalloway region generally.
Mr. Smith is a native of Skowhegan and will pass his 57th birthday in the House. He keeps a store in Andover, selling, keeps, inware, etc., and is a practical plumber. He was one of the substantial citizens of the town, has served eight years on the board of selectmen and two years on the school board. He belongs to the Knights of Pythias and Grange.

Fred H. Bartlett, Stoneham.
Fred H. Bartlett of East Stoneham follows in his father's footsteps as a law-maker, being the son of Hon. Jonathan Bartlett, who has a fine record both as member of the House from Stoneham and senator from Oxford county.

Fred H. Bartlett is a native of Stoneham, a member of the firm of J. Bartlett & Sons, general store and manufacturer of long and short lumber, shock, spools and dowels, and also conducts a large board of selectmen, town clerk, superintendent of schools, and is a justice of the peace. He belongs to Masons, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Grange and is known as a substantial citizen and all round business man.

T. B. W. Stetson, Hartford.
Ten Brock W. Stetson of Hartford represents the important class including the towns of Mexico, Dixfield, Canton, Sumner and Peru. Mr. Stetson was called one of the most prominent citizens of Hartford as he is town clerk, town treasurer, tax-collector, on the school committee. He has also served eight years on the board of selectmen, five years as chairman.

He is a farmer and does some lumbering and is a member of the Grange and Odd Fellows. He is a conservative business man and will be a good man in the legislature.

C. Howard Lane, West Paris.
C. Howard Lane, who goes down to the legislature from West Paris, hasn't been there before but it won't take him long to get the hang of things. Mr. Lane has "kept store" in West Paris for 27 years and knows everybody in that part of the county and everybody knows him—and have bought clothing, boots and shoes, furniture, carpentering, dry goods, groceries, etc., at Lane's emporium for years.

Mr. Lane is a justice of the peace and belongs to the Masonic fraternity. He is a man of unquestionable business ability and will be a strong and substantial member of the Oxford delegation.

SOUTH ALBANY.
Mrs. Sarah Abbott is in quite poor health.
George Abbott went to Norway one day on business.

A. G. Bean of Albany has been in this place on business.
Merritt Sawin has sold his horse Joe to Nahum Scribner of Albany.

Mrs. Ralph Penfold has been at her father's, J. F. Lord's, sick with the mumps.

Walter Canwell has been suffering from carbuncles but has become better and is able to work.

Walter Lord and family spent Christmas with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buckford.

Roy Lord is visited by Mrs. Lord's brother-in-law, Herbert Ingalls of Bridgton, and his daughter.

David Jordan, who has been stopping at the late F. O. Jordan's place with her husband, has returned to her home in Norway.

Grace Sawin, who has been ill and obliged to close her school in Watford for two weeks, has recovered and returned to school.

Mary Dresser of North Watford went to the entertainment at Hunt's Corner, Wednesday night and over night at P. P. Dresser's on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Canwell and two children, Harold and Marjorie were at Merritt Sawin's, Sunday; also Hiram Ruth, wife and three children, Helen, Ruth and Della.

Helping With a Word.
A young girl was passing her aged great-grandmother one day when she suddenly stopped, laid her hand gently on the white head and said, "How pretty and curly your hair is, Aunt Mary! I wish I had such pretty hair."

The simple words brought a quick flash of pleasure to the wrinkled face and there was a joyous quiver in the brief acknowledgment of the spontaneous little courtesy.

"A young man once said to his mother, 'You ought to have seen Aunt Ester to-day when I returned home. What a pretty gown you have on! How nice you look in it!'" She almost cried, she was so pleased. I hadn't thought of that such a thing would be likely to please her.

"I never expect to eat any cookies as good as those you used to make for me," said a bearded man one day, and he was shocked when he saw her evident delight had not thought for a moment that he was of any of the thousand comforts and pleasures with which her skill and love had filled his boyhood.

Lacked Presence of Mind.
In the criminal court in Baltimore a darky was on trial for stealing a watch by the owner as the person who grabbed the watch out of his pocket, yet he asked how he came in possession of the watch, he said:

"I was standing on the corner when a man comes up to me and says he is hard up and hasn't a cent to buy food with. I knew I could get $4 in it in pawn, and I felt sorry for him and bought the watch for $3 and pawned it for $4. That is how I got the watch."

The prosecutor then asked, if he had bought for $4, surely he could pawn because he felt sorry for him, why he did not advise him to pawn it for him, and then he would have had $4 in it, he said:

"Well, you see," said the prisoner, "I didn't have the presence of mind to do that."

"The Lacombe Democrat hits the nail on the head when it remarks that the principal difficulty with the direct primary law, from the standpoint of the practical politicians, is that it will put them out of business. Ay, there's the rub."

The Old Lovell Center Families

And Their Descendants.
No. 2—WRITTEN BY JOSEPH ANDREWS.
Edward Charles, one of my boyhood schoolmates, lived for many years with Henry Russell. He enlisted in the 13th Maine Volunteers, and was engaged in at least one big battle in Gen. Banks' Peninsular expedition. After his return he went into one of the manufacturing cities of Maine, where he worked for a few years when he died.

Phineas Russell, brother of Henry, moved west in an early day. I remember his father, having seen him on one of his visits home. It was said that when he and Isaac Andrews were small boys they found a mink in a rock pile, and before catching it divided the prize. Phineas was to have the pelt and like the rest, but he took it away to their great disappointment.

Josiah Heald, who used to live in the white house where Eekley Stearns now lives, sold out to his brother, Abel, and moved to Portland where he learned the dentists' trade with his brother, John. He served for a short time as captain in one of the Maine regiments. His son, Eugene, became a Commander in the navy. He died quite suddenly a few years ago. There were two daughters. One of them married a Congregational minister and is living in Maine.

Of Abel Heald's large family seven moved away. Isabella, who married Frank Woodbury of Sweden, Austin and Alice all died in San Francisco, Cal. Henry, who married Hitty Charles of Lovell, is now living at Madison, Wis. They have two children, a son and a daughter. The son is a professor in the State University at Lincoln, Neb. Edward P. Heald has been for nearly 40 years manager and president of Heald's business college at San Francisco, Cal. At the time of the great earthquake his college buildings escaped the shock but the fire destroyed them. But with true Yankee grit and enterprise he has started up again, and has organized a chain of business colleges in the cities of the Pacific coast. Sarah married Henry Stearns, son of Dea. Stearns. They have a pleasant home in Oakland, Cal. He has been one of the professors in Heald's business college from the start.

They have one son, a lawyer, who is married and living in Chicago, Ill. Rev. Josiah Heald married Mary C. Pike, a daughter of Elder Pike of Stow. They are now living in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he is superintendent of the Congregational mission schools, all of which are Spanish. He has three boys and one daughter. About four years ago I visited with him, on my first trip to California.

Not very long before his step-mother, Aunt Harriet Stearns Heald, had gone west to live with him, and died soon after. He was buried in the beautiful cemetery overlooking the city and about two miles away. Heald was troubled with hemorrhages of the lungs before coming here, but in the dry, pure air of New Mexico he finds both health and pleasure, and a vast field for religious work. Mrs. Heald is also an ordained minister.

Edwin, a son of John Heald, lived a long time with his uncle Abel at the Center. After he grew to manhood he moved to Portland where he learned the dentists' trade with his father. He lived for a while in New York city, then moved to California where he died.

Thomas Adams, who lived with Mr. Heald a long time, enlisted as a soldier in the war of the rebellion and was last heard of in Pennsylvania.

Charles, son of Phineas Russell, moved away. His sister Ellen, on the death of her husband, the late Joseph Stearns, moved to Norway and is living with one of her daughters.

Mehitable, daughter of David Stearns, married Samuel Gilkey and lived in Portland, where both died.

Joseph Kimball, son of Moses, who lived close by the schoolhouse, is now a prosperous farmer living at Stow. Corlies with him. His mother lives with him. His brother, Frank, is a wealthy stockman, living in Nebraska. His brother, James, who went to Iowa, has not been heard from for the last ten years.

Dr. George Jones, who lived on the James Meserve farm, was a royal good neighbor and full of fun. On one occasion, when I was a boy, he treated me to a good generous cube of Indian turpentine. I forgot it a long time ago for his cruel joke, but he came back to me on that occasion I shall never forget. He married a daughter of Dea. Stearns and afterwards moved to Norway, where both died.

Col. Elden Barker was for many years one of Lovell's leading citizens. He re-member him best as town superintendent of schools. He and Squire Hobbs superintended the village are the only school in my schoolboy days and I think that they must have served alternately in that office for many years. He married Little, daughter of Rev. Valentine Stearns and as soon after settled in Jewell City, Iowa, and he and wife living there served in the state senate at least one term.

Of his four children who grew up Mary married a merchant and is living in Kansas; Victoria married Mr. Evans, a Cal. They have one son who is in the University of California when I called on them at their home, some four years ago. Ruth married a wealthy merchant and her husband was soon laid beside her. Orestes, her life. She married and moved to Colorado where her husband committed suicide. She went into a nursing home and her daughter, a charming and beautiful young lady who was a school teacher. She is now in the insane asylum and I am told that under the stern laws of England she can never be set free, even should her reason be restored.

A Maine Model.
Maine rises to remark that her statute is a model for other states who would penalize those who impose "fakes" upon publishers. Maine law was passed in 1903 and provides that whoever willfully and maliciously secures the publication of any false or libellous statement concerning a person or corporation shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year or both.

Vermont's proposed law puts the maximum for news faking at $20, which certainly is not making the punishment heavier penalties is much more likely to convince practical jokers who send false "unauthorized notices" to newspapers of the serious nature of their offense.

A very dear friend sent me a little sermon which I pass on for the benefit of the other members.
"Lucky is the girl who has cultivated good manners, for her road to success is easy for she has paved it with politeness and the little attentions she showers on one and all brighten the deadly routine of life, and through her unfeeling thoughtfulness she endears herself to all. No girl is so busy that she can afford to eliminate good manners from her daily round of work, for just as often is politeness as well as ability essential to success."

"As good manners are so easily acquired, why is it that we so seldom encounter the thoughtful attentive girl. Of life, but the test of politeness comes in the first provocation are of little or no value, for then it is but the favored few who reap the benefit of our thoughtful constant use a kind manner is sure to succeed where her less thoughtful sister will undoubtedly fail."

It is said that one-half of the world does not know how the other half lives, and certainly does not apply to small communities.

PROBATE NOTICES.

To all persons interested in either of the Estates hereinafter named:

At a Probate Court, held at Paris, in and for the County of Oxford, on the third Tuesday of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and eight. The following matter having been presented for the action, thereupon heretofore indicated, it is hereby ORDERED:

That notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by causing a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the NORWAY ADVERTISER, a newspaper published at Norway, in said county, that they may appear at a Probate Court to be held at said Paris on the third Tuesday of January, A. D. 1909, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and be heard thereon if they see cause.

CHARLES L. THOMAS, late of Oxford, deceased; will and petition for probate thereof presented by Rochester Webster, the executor thereon named.

CHARLES D. NOBLE late of Norway, deceased; will and petition for probate thereof presented by Edward Webster, the executor thereon named.

The Apple Case.

A case of vital interest to apple-growers of Oxford and Cumberland counties and for all Maine apple growers as well, was heard in the United States District court at Portland last week, Judge Clarence Hale presiding, in the suit of the Cummings-Dresser Co. of Portland against the Conrad-Shoup Fruit Co. of St. Louis, involving $2,000 which the plaintiffs claim as a result of the refusal of the defendant company in carrying out their contract to take 7,000 barrels of apples in 1907 at $2.00 a barrel from West Paris, Bethel, South Paris, Norway and other points along the line of the Grand Trunk.

The jury were out three-quarters of an hour and brought in a verdict for the Cummings-Dresser Co. for the amount for which they sued, with interest, amounting to $2,411.

The suit was brought to recover $2,264 for an alleged violation of contract in not accepting 1,442 barrels of apples. The two main questions involved were: First, whether the St. Louis firm refused to accept the apples because they were not fit, or because the financial panic sent the prices of apples down; second, as to what extent fungus growth on a few apples in a barrel will contaminate the rest of the apples in the barrel.

The amount the Portland firm recovered is the difference between what they had to pay for the apples and what they sold them for. Many experts were witnesses in the case, which has attracted much attention among apple-raisers and apple buyers.

The earthquakes bring to mind the old myth of Eucatastia, the fabled giant, prostrate under Mt. Etna who caused all Sicily to tremble when he turned over to rest his wounded side. It was in the Strait of Messina that ancient tradition located Scylla and Charybdis.

The legends of that section of the Mediterranean are familiar to those children who are studying Virgil and who in that incomparable epic have followed the wanderings of Aeneas from burning Troy to the mouth of the Tiber.

Mrs. Mary A. Sheridan died at the Sacred Heart hospital, Manchester, of a complication of diseases, aged 56 years. She was born in Fryeburg, and had been a resident of Manchester for some years. She was a regular attendant of St. Anne's church. She is survived by her husband, Patrick Sheridan, son Phillip; mother, Mrs. Bridget Butler, one brother, James S. Butler, and five sisters.

Mrs. Flora Hammond of South Woodstock, sister of the late Harold Martin, of Winthrop, has applied to the probate court for papers appointing her administratrix of his estate. Bent Morrill of Rockfield, a brother of Mrs. Martin, who died recently, has applied for similar papers. Mr. Martin's will may be contested.

Men are Helpless as Children.

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill.

The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexas Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexas Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and indigestion can never bother you.

Rexas Dyspepsia Tablets cure stomach trouble by supplying the one element, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They enable the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood.

We know what Rexas Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to cure indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

Price, 25 cents per full package. Sold only at our stores or by mail. F. P. Stone, Norway, Maine.

PARIS HILL.

There was no meeting of the Bee last week on account of Christmas.

Edith Pomeroy, who has been ill for several weeks, is gaining rapidly now.

Miss E. C. Ford and Miss "Twitche" were guests of Miss P. N. Andrews, Christmas day.

O. A. Maxim left Monday to visit his son, Maynard, who is a professor in the high school at Newton, Mass.

Rev. G. W. F. Hill gave a very beautiful and helpful sermon last Sunday, text, Luke 7:37; topic, The Alabaster Box; the year just passing the polished surface with 366 facets.

School began Monday, Dec. 28th. Miss Luce, who has been principal during the past year, is again with us. "Elope" she'll keep it as long as I go here," is the way the pupils put the matter.

Annie Parris has been obliged to return to Lewiston hospital for further treatment, not having recovered satisfactorily from the operation which she underwent there a few weeks ago.

Mrs. J. C. Marble, Mrs. John Pierce and Miss Pierce, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, Miss Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thayer and Mrs. Caroline P. Harlow were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Thayer at Elmhurst at a Christmas dinner.

The village Christmas tree at the Baptist church passed off very nicely. There were brief exercises, consisting of reading the Christmas story, Luke 8:20, and prayer by Rev. G. W. F. Hill; singing by the choir; readings by Miss P. N. Andrews of The King's Christmas and The Cratchet's Christmas dinner; a solo by Ada Gibbs, remarks by Mr. Hill and congregational singing of Antioch. Following the exercises the tree was stripped of the varied load. Santa was not able to be present this year but hopes to come next.

Advent—Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Androscoggin and Oxford County Advent Christian churches was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Turner Street Advent Christian church, Auburn, with a good attendance and every prospect for a successful series of meetings.

The conference opened Thursday evening with a social service at the church, Friday forenoon Rev. W. H. Jackson, State missionary delivered a New Year's sermon to a good sized audience. Friday evening was an illustrated lecture on "God's Signal," by Rev. W. N. Tenney of Boston, a speaker of particular ability.

Saturday forenoon was devoted to the business of the conference, and in the afternoon was held the Sunday school work. In the evening Rev. H. M. Young, pastor of the Brighton church delivered a sermon for the young people.

E. L. Tebbetts Spool Co. organized at Auburn for the purpose of manufacturing and dealing in spools and bobbins, with $50,000 capital stock of which nothing is paid in. Officers: President, Eugene A. Tebbetts of Auburn; prospect, Eugene L. Tebbetts. Certificate filed Jan. 2, 1909.

He was born in Hebron, the son of John and Hannah (Landers) Hutchinson. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. R. M. Watson of Boston and Mrs. L. Hutchinson, who has lived with her father in Avon.

Catarah Cured.

No Cure, No Pay, is a Most Generous Offer

To get an antiseptic strong enough to kill catarrh germs and not destroy the tissues of the membrane at the same time, has been a problem which was never solved until the discovery of Hymel (pronounced High-o-m-e).

Hymel is prepared from eucalyptus, the most powerful yet healing antiseptic known. Breathe it through the inhaler over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane four or five times a day, and in a few days the germs will disappear.

The inflamed condition will go too, and the soothing, hawking and offensive breath. Breathe it through the inhaler over the nose will cease.

Then why should any catarrh sufferer hesitate, when Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, has such faith in Hymel that he is willing to return your money if after a fair trial Hymel does not cure catarrh.

A complete Hymel outfit, including the inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents. Hymel also cures such ailments as, sore throat, coughs, colds or grip. 244

The Maine State Flag.

The Legislature of 1901 authorized a State flag and such a flag is in existence, but very few have ever seen it and probably not one person in a thousand through the State could describe it.

The flag has a buff ground with a large green pine tree in the center and a blue star in the upper left hand corner. The flag, only one is in existence—is in the custody of the adjutant general and has once or twice been used at State encampments of the National Guard.

In earlier years the State flag, by custom if not by authority of law, bore the familiar coat of arms of Maine. It was such a flag as this, flying beside the national flag, that each of Maine's regiments followed into battle in the Civil War. These old State flags, bloodstained bullet-torn, and faded by southern sun and storm, are now preserved in the glass cases on either side of the rotunda of the State house.

Maine has no possession it cherishes more than these old flags. Possibly there was some good reason for accepting a new design for a State flag, as was done by the Legislature of eight years ago, but nobody seems to know what it was. It may have been thought that the new design was more artistic or that its relative simplicity would make it more popular, but these things were hardly sufficient compensation for abandoning the traditions and associations of the past.

The pine tree and the star of the present flag are taken from the Maine coat of arms, but are appropriate emblems, but why abandon the coat of arms as a whole? This is familiar to all and has the sanctity of long usage in peace and war. In most other states the coat of arms appears on the State flag. This is the case in Massachusetts where Gov. Guild has brought about the good custom of having the State flag fly beside the national flag on all the public institutions in the state. Maine's present State flag is unknown and unused, and a return to the former design with a general display of the State flag on public buildings would be a good thing.—[Kennebec Journal.]

The Aeolian Islands Safe.

The Lipari or Aeolian islands near the coast of Sicily comprising 132 square miles to which attention has been called by the report that they had been engulfed with their inhabitants were found to be safe.

The Lipari islands, better known as the Aeolian islands, were a volcanic group in the Mediterranean, consisting of half a dozen large and numerous smaller islands, with an aggregate area of 118 square miles, and situated off the coast of Sicily northwest of Messina. Many of the smaller islands formed part of the rim of a gigantic crater of a buried volcano.

The collective population of the islands is estimated to have been about 28,000, of whom nearly one-half lived on the biggest island, that of Lipari.

This island has an area of thirty-two square miles and was the most important of the group.
